

WHAT TO BRING

90S THEME COSTUME Everyone dresses up, and I mean everyone...including your professors. No costume=no party. Period. No need to be shy about it. The MSIs pared so-so at Welcome Weekend; now it's time for your class to step it up and represent at Retreat! So don those LA lights or Nike Airs, suit up in your ninja turtle outfit, sport your Hypercolor, find the most obnoxiously bright wind-jacket you own, tie in those scrunchies, and practice your Screech and Fresh Prince impressions...because it's on. Prizes to be given to the best first year costumes. Don't miss the most memorable way to one-up your fellow classmates.

SLEEPING BAG AND/OR SHEETS FOR COTS

PILLOW

TOILETRIES: including shampoo and conditioner- you will want to shower after the Olympics. Please bring any medications or personal items you may need for the weekend!

WORK-OUT TYPE T-SHIRTS AND SHORTS that you won't mind getting dirty (and don't forget those sports bras)

OLD SNEAKERS AND SOCKS

PJS

CHANGE OF CLOTHES for Saturday

OPTIONAL ITEMS: personal fan (for the most part, rooms will have AC, so this is back-up), umbrella/poncho (in case of a torrential downpour)

A NOTE ON DRESS: We're heading to camp! Though we will be indoors for about half of the time, make sure you dress comfortably for hiking around Camp Allen, and are prepared for the wonderfully hot and humid Houston weather

ON PACKING: Please pack anything that you will not want to carry around camp with you on Friday in your main suitcase and/or sleeping bag- to be stored in the baggage area of the bus. This includes your pillows!

OH...and did we forget to mention? Bring your

COSTUME,

or you're an L7 weenie ●
